Librarian's Corner

Dear Colleagues,

In the spring issue of the Ricker newsletter, I reviewed the growing number of art and architecture databases that the Library has purchased access to via the Worldwide Web. I am pleased to announce the addition of two new on-line tools:

The Index of Christian Art and Art Index Retrospective.

The Index of Christian Art includes works of art from early apostolic times until 1400 A.D. Although it is focused on the Western world, there are no geographical limitations. It provides information on approximately 200,000 photographs in seventeen different media including manuscripts, metalwork, sculpture, glass, etc. Presently, some images are provided.

The Art Index Retrospective is an index of over 400 publications ranging in date from 1929-1984. The coverage includes advertising art, antiques, architecture and architectural history, art history, crafts, decorative arts, fashion, folk art, graphic arts, industrial design, interior design, landscape architecture, film, museology, painting, photography, pottery, sculpture, textiles, and video. In addition to indexing periodicals, it also includes yearbooks and museum bulletins.

These resources are available through Ricker Library's home page: http:// www.library.uiuc.edu/arx and through the Article database page on the University Library's gateway (<http://gateway.library.uiuc.edu/resource/article.asp>). These article databases are found on the latter URL, under the heading: ARTS & HUMANITIES DATABASES. Please note that additional useful databases may be found under the other subject headings, but most particularly under the MULTI-SUBJECT COVERAGE DATABASES category.

We are currently investigating the provision of Web access to BHA or the Bibliographie d'Histoire de l'Art. We will keep you apprised of developments.

Please feel free to recommend any electronic resources that you would like to see made available on the UIUC campus.

MICROFORMS

Ricker Library has an excellent collection of microfilm and microfiche. These are located in a restricted area but are readily available for your use. Please inquire at the circulation desk. All items have been catalogued and are designated in the OPAC by the prefix of either MFICHE or FILM and then the call number. We have a microfilm/fiche reader-printer at your disposal. The machine copies both positive and negative films. Two lens are available: 9.5 x 126x, and 16x by 32x. Copies are ten cents each.

If there are microforms lacking from the collection that you feel would be useful for your research and/or teaching purposes, please do not hesitate to contact us. Every effort will be made to acquire needed materials but please note that these sources tend to be fairly expensive.

Some of these useful resources are described below:

Adam, Robert. The drawings of Robert and James Adam in Sir John Soane's Museum. Vols. 1-56 (11 reels)
FILM 720.942Ad1d.

Reproductions of more than 10,000 drawings of architecture, interiors, ornaments, ceilings, furniture, woodwork, and textiles. More than 360 buildings are depicted. The Catalogue of the Drawings of Robert and James Adam in Sir John Soane's Museum by Walter L. Spiers, contains brief descriptions for each drawing plus names of buildings, clients, and types of subjects. It also includes indices to buildings, clients and objects.

Ancient Roman Architecture.

MFICHE Q.722.7An22

A reproduction of the photographic and bibliographic archive of Ancient Roman architecture and topography of the Fototeca Unione, part of the International Union of Institutes of Archaeology, History, and History of Art in Rome. Divided into three sections: Rome, Italy and the Empire.

Bauhaus Lecture Notes, 1930-33.

720.71043184B33b

J.J. van der Linden (b. 1907) deposited his collection of unique photographic and documentary material and his lecture notes with the Bauhaus-Archiv in Berlin. The lecture notes contain important information about the teaching methods of the Bauhaus. In Bauhaus Lecture Notes, the art historian, Marty Bax, describes the teaching methods at the Bauhaus and re-examines the position of architectural training under the directorship of Mies van der Rohe. Located in Ricker Library's Vault (ARV)

The Cicognara Library: Literary Sources in the History of Art and Kindred Spirits.

MFICHE 700 C485

A reproduction of the entire Fondo Cicognara (circa five thousand titles) in the Vatican Library. Included among these books are many bound volumes of engravings with texts that show how to draw and paint, how perspective works, how to build houses, bridges, fountains, machines, etc. In addition, there is a large stock of books and pamphlets on museums and private collections and their holdings, travel to historic and artistic sites, guides to illustrated books, and so forth. Other bound volumes of engravings illustrate works of art and architecture, feasts, funerary rites, and solemn entries, costume and dress, emblems, hieroglyphs and much more.

The Conway Library. The Courtauld Institute of Art.

MFICHE 708.21C769c

The photographic archive at the Courtauld Institute of the University of London contains one of the world's largest collections of photographs.

Part I. The Architecture of France and Italy

Part II The Architecture of the British Isles, Germany, and the rest of the world

Part III Architectural Drawings

The Deloynes Collection, Collection de pièces sur les beaux-arts (1673-1808).

MFICHE 709.03C685

This microform consists of the sixty-three volumes of the Deloynes collection in the Bibliothèque nationale, Paris. It includes pamphlets, manuscripts and exhibition catalogues.

Frick Art Reference Library Sales Catalogue Index.

MFICHE 016.7F911f

From its origins, the Frick Library has had as one of its major goals the acquisition of art sales catalogues. This resource is organized in three separate sections to facilitate access to information: the first is organized by date of sale; the second, is organized by auction house or place of sale; the third is organized by owners and collectors.

Historic American Buildings Survey.

Photographs and written historical and descriptive data prepared by the Historic American Buildings Survey, Office of Archeology and Historic Preservation, National Park Service. Includes material received by the Library of Congress to the end of 1979.

MFICHE 745IN22

Part of the Federal Art Project of the 1930s, this was a visual survey consisting of objects of decorative, folk, and popular arts made in America up to about 1900. The original renditions are kept at the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C. The set consists of ten sections: Textiles, Costume, and Jewelry; Art and Design of Utopian and Religious Communities; Architecture and Naïve Art; Tools, Hardware, Firearms; Domestic Utensils; Furniture and Decorative Accessories, Wood Carvings and Weathervanes; Ceramics and Glass; Silver, Copper, Pewter, and Toleware; plus Toys and Musical Instruments.

Index photographique de l' Art en France.

MFICHE 709.44In2

This source is organized by city or town and subdivided by various buildings and monuments. It covers the 8th century through the present. It is especially good for medieval architecture and collections in small French museums.

Marburger Index.

MFICHE 709.43B492m

Photographs cover material dating from the Middle Ages to the present.

Contains Western and non-Western art, architecture, painting, sculpture, prints, and decorative arts and crafts. Exterior and interior views are provided as well as photographs-- taken between 1850 and 1976-- of art objects owned by German museums, churches, and institutions. Germany is defined as the country in 1937. It is organized topographically and sub-divided by municipal architecture followed by sacred and secular architecture and ending with museums followed by individual works of art owned by these institutions. It also has an extensive subject index.

Set I 480,000 images published 1978-82

Set II 300,000 images published 1983-87

Set III 150,000 images published 1990

NEW SECURITY SYSTEM

Many of you have commented with pleasure upon the new security system installed in Ricker Library. Yes, it is more attractive than the older model, also provided by 3M. Looks aside, one of its virtues is that it is more ADA compliant, and lacks those grey gates that would lock in place.

NEW PHOTOCOPIERS

The University Library has installed brand-new photocopying machines on a library wide-basis. The cost is now $0.15 per page but the advantages are that both machines are capable of reducing and enlarging and make excellent copies. You can decrease the cost of making copies to 8.5 cents per page by purchasing a photocopying card available in numerous locations such as the Union, CCSO, the Main and Undergraduate Libraries.
