This is the second message in a series today which addresses events and meetings.

As of tomorrow, March 13, the university is suspending all university-sponsored, in-person events and meetings in campus facilities.

For library events that are scheduled, event organizers should push out messaging that the event will now be live-streamed or, if that is not possible, cancelled or postponed to a future date. For the health and safety of all, until further notice, no new in-person events should be planned.

In addition, the university recommends that all in-person meetings be moved to an alternative solution unless meeting in-person is essential to do so. If so, please observe CDC guidelines on social distancing and other preventative measures.

For more information regarding events and meetings, visit this FAQ.

If you need guidance on disseminating information about live-streamed or cancelled/postponed events, want to submit an event waiver, or have any questions at all, please connect with Heather Murphy (Chief Communications Officer).
